Report of Superintendent of Schools.

Six schools have been maintained for 30 weeks and one 29 weeks. The teachers employed were as follows: Island school, spring term, Gladys I. Cheney, fall and winter terms, Francis L. Millett; Wadleigh school, spring term, G. Lena Woods, fall term, Roxana E. Sears, winter term, Irma A. Brown; Shattuck school, Bessie L. Beck; Bennett school, spring term, Marion de C. Ellis, fall and winter terms, Lois C. Pratt; Village primary, Abbie E. Follette; Village intermediate, Rose M. French; Village grammar, spring term, Emma M. Cooke, fall and winter term, Mildred J. Beebe.

These twelve teachers have all been well qualified and have worked for the best interest of their pupils and for the general good of the community. The enthusiasm and high ideals of our teachers have a great influence in our lives. Half that we are, we owe to them. Let us make the next year a very pleasant and profitable one, and let's wish all of our teachers a happy future.

One hundred and sixty-three pupils have been enrolled. Some have attended school a few weeks only. The average length of attendance for all pupils is about two terms. The average attendance while enrolled is about eighty-five per cent. This percentage might be considerably improved if all parents would use their best efforts to have their children attend school every day. Often the children who need an education most are just the ones who have the most absent and tardy marks. The children who attend school regularly and are there on time make progress, and they always like the school. Good homes and good schools always make useful men and women.

Plenty of good dry hard wood should be provided early. It is a mistake to depend upon slab wood, or any wood that is not carefully seasoned. The sanitary condition of the school buildings has been quite good. Our new school laws offer better opportunities for a higher education. Read these laws carefully and see how we can make the best use of them. As a whole our schools have done excellent work during the past year.

The pupils having no absent marks during the year were: Carleton Austin, Ralph Bolster, Salina Dumas, Don Emerson, Ervin French, Pearl Hart and Bernice White.

Other pupils without marks for two terms: Bertha Abbott, Oce Atwater, Marjory Benson, Richard Bolster, Rosa Bresette, Marion Carver, Ruth French, Raymond Graves, Guy Rounds, Alida Shattuck, Cornelius Taft, Richard Taft and Lena Wadleigh.

Pupils not absent more than five days during the year: Maurice Abbott, Forrest Benson, Richard Bolster, Rosa Bresette, Luella Burt, Carroll Drury, Elsie Dumas, Jesse Marble, Henry Mars, Guy Rounds, Alida Shattuck, Winona Shattuck, Cornelius Taft, Richard Taft, Lucella Taylor, Lena Wadleigh, Fred Waite, Harold Waite, Milton Waite, Earl White and Reba Woods.

Report of Library and Reading Room

This has been another good year for our library. Thirty-six new books have been added, making 947 volumes in all. A very large proportion of them are excellent books and there is hardly a poor one in the library. The value of a library may also be measured by the extent of its use. Our library gains new patrons every year. It can do for children who have few books of their own what the home library and cultured father and mother do for children in their refined homes. It helps us to become familiar with the world's best thoughts and deeds. If you prefer to read papers and magazines, we have some of them too. Some day we shall have a library building and a larger reading room where you can all enjoy spare moments when in town.

Give us at least two per cent of the grand list this year, we really ought to have that in addition to the amount required by law.

The year's account is as follows:

By balance last year		$1.11
Town order		56.00
Book fines		2.14
		$59.25
To rent to March	$18.00
Librarian to March	18.00
Cash for wood	1.77
Cash for books	12.90
Cash for magazines	6.50
Cash for lights, etc	1.48	58.65

Report of Superintendent of Schools.

This year, as usual, seven schools have been maintained, and nearly all of them have done good work.

Several schools have not yet completed their winter terms so the usual report of pupils with perfect or nearly perfect attendance will be ommitted for the time being, at least. The greatest reward for perfect attendance is the good habits formed and the extra amount learned.

A few years later the world will easily recognize the pupils who were always at school on time and who made a good record for each day. Pupils who get in the habit of cheerfully doing what is right and who use their best efforts to make school pleasant and profitable are really the ones who succeed and whom their friends will trust and appreciate.

School is more to life than the mere learning of lessons from books. Far more valuable are the good habits formed. Books rightly used help to cultivate the mind, give us a larger knowledge and fit us for better positions in life. But to this knowledge we should add those little courteous habits which make school pleasant and add a charm to the future years.

Parents, also, have a large responsibility. The home influence is a wonderful factor,— it makes good fathers and mothers and then, wishing to do even better, makes good pupils and generally good teachers also.

Each year a larger proportion of our parents seem to be using their influence to have their children at school on time every day. All our schools are not equally good, some better than others. As I carefully look over the progress made by the pupils in the different schools during the past five years, I am thoroughly convinced that the schools which have done the best work are the ones in which the parents have best supported the schools.

During that time every school has had a large proportion of good teachers, and nearly all of the teachers have used their best efforts in the interest of their pupils. So, if any discover that their children have not progressed as much as they should, carefully consider the encouragement which they have received at home and plan better for them in the future. With right influences at home, such schools as our little town can offer will give every boy and girl a practical education. Of course, much depends upon the conduct of the children too, but we have confidence in them and believe that they will do their part well.

New lessons come to all of us. This year we have had the eye and ear test. It was done in a somewhat imperfect way, of course, and yet a certain amount of good has come from it. Several pupils have already profited by the information thus received, and I am confident that others will do so in the future.

A larger number of our pupils are interested in High School work, and so here is another problem for us to solve. If they will will help us, we ought to be more than willing to help them.

Respectfully submitted,

C. A. SMITH, Supt.

Weston, Vt., Feb. 10, 1906.

Report of Library and Reading Room.

As we come again to look over the year's record we find there has been a constant demand for good new books. The better books on hand have been read by a large proportion of the book-reading people in town. Today everyone is supposed to be familiar with writers who have recorded the world's best thoughts. It is interesting to meet people who read or have travelled, they tell us of the things they have seen or heard and thus we get a larger knowledge. Good books thoughtfully read cultivate the mind and enable one to more easily mingle with the world's best society.

This year we have purchased fourteen new books, and are hoping to have a few more soon. If we could have twenty-five dollars more each year we might get twice as many books.

Following is the financial account for the year:

By balance last year		$ 60

We have carefully gone over the school, highway and town portions of the treasurer's account from 1893 to Feb. 10, 1907, and find a surplus of $1000.25 for the school, a deficit of $624.17 for the highway, and a deficit of $376.08 for the town for the orders presented for payment up to Feb. 10, 1907.

Believing the above to be a correct statement we respectfully submit it.

REPORT OF SUPT. OF SCHOOLS.

Seven schools have been maintained throughout the year. There was a school in the Reservoir district in the spring. During the fall term the three pupils in this district attended the school in the village, but have attended no school this winter.

Twelve teachers have been employed to teach twenty-two terms of school. Three of them have taught in town the full school year or longer and four have taught two terms each.

A High School has been established this year with C. H. Dinsmore as principal. The work here has been thorough and efficient. This school is the banner school for attendance, as perhaps it should be.

In the grades also there has been another year of successful work, some of the teachers bringing their classes up to a higher standard of excellence than ever before. Parents living in the sparsely populated parts of the town ought to be make the extra effort required to bring their children glad to to these schools.

Some good work has been done in the outside schools but the greater part of it has been unsatisfactory. The Island School is too large for an ungraded school. No teacher can do justice to it. Many of these pupils could attend the village school.

The attendance in some of the schools, particularly the Island and Bennett schools has been poor. There is always some sickness to be taken into consideration, but even then the attendance is far below what it should be. We commend those teachers who can make the majority of their pupils like to go to school. But when the teacher fails in this the duty of the parents and school officials should begin. Unless prevented by sickness all pupils should be in school every day and if they do not choose to be, then should be compelled to be there. Any parent who allows his child to be absent from school without sufficient reason is robbing that child of what is best in life and which can never be regained.

One hundred and sixty-five pupils have been enrolled in our schools this year.

Report of Library and Reading Room.

June 22, 1883, a few of our people feeling the need of a library in town, organized the Weston Library Association.

During the next fifteen years its members and their families enjoyed the privilege of having a much larger number of good books to read than they otherwise would have had. Entertainments were held occasionly and in various ways money was raised so that the little library kept growing. Many of those members are now absent but their good example and influence have benefitted us.

When the Free Town Library was organized in 1898, the Library Association kindly gave the use of its books to the town. This made a nucleus of three hundred and fifty-one volumes. The state then gave us one hundred dollars worth of books. Other friends have been equally generous and interested in our welfare and have kindly made donations from time to time.

During the past year forty-one new books have been added; and the little library which was first organized almost a quarter of a century ago has slowly grown to one containing one thousand volumes. You who were children when the library started are now men and women. Have you made good use of this library during that quarter of a century? If so, are you not better men and women for having done it?

A nice little library building would be a fine thing for the town. Let's have one. Last year you did not give us quite money enough to do as we had planned; certainly we ought to have as much as in previous years. We have not renewed our subscriptions for papers and magazines because we did not have the money to do it.

Our financial account is as follows:

By balance last year		$ .35
" Town order		25 00
